

Murder Mystery

Friday
12th May

A Day at the Races is our racing-inspired murder mystery theme.

Why not take a punt on this one and see if you can lay odds on who committed murder most foul. A good down to earth Yorkshire couple have invested in a racehorse after winning the Euro Millions and it's going to run at the National. Whether you are the kind of person who only bets on a dead cert or someone who likes to play the long shot, we need your support to lay odds on who you'd put your money on as being a murderer. We'll give you odds of 100/1 you can't guess who the murderer is in this one!
